TITLE 8, DIVISION 1, CHAPTER 4

Subchapter 4. Construction Safety Orders
Article 3. General

Amend section 1512 as follows:

§1512. Emergency Medical Services and First Aid.

(a) Provision of Services. Where more than one employer is involved in a single construction project on a given construction site, each employer is responsible to ensure the availability of emergency medical services for its employees. The employers on the project may agree to ensure employee access to emergency medical services for the combined work force present at the job site. Such an emergency medical service program shall be adequate to service the combined work force present, but only one emergency medical program need be established at such site.

(b) Appropriately Trained Person. Each employer shall ensure the availability of a suitable number of appropriately trained persons to render first aid. Where more than one employer is involved in a single construction project on a given construction site, the employers may form a pool of appropriately trained persons. However, such pool shall be large enough to service the combined work forces of such employers.

EXCEPTION: Engineering contractors or service providers on a job site not engaged in construction activity (e.g., operation of tools, equipment or machinery directly associated with construction) that are in compliance with the requirements of ~~S~~section 3400(b) of the General Industry Safety Orders.

(c) First-Aid Kit.

(1) Every employer working on or furnishing personnel on a construction project, on line crews and on other short duration or transient jobs shall provide at least one first-aid kit in a weatherproof container. The contents of the first-aid kit shall be checked by the employer before being sent out on each job and at least weekly on each job ~~inspected regularly~~ to ensure that the expended items are promptly replaced. The contents of the first-aid kit shall be arranged to be quickly found and remain sanitary. All employees shall have ready access to a first-aid kit. The location of each first-aid kit shall be clearly indicated. First-aid dressings shall be sterile in individually sealed packages for each item. The minimum types and quantities of materials in first-aid kits ~~first-aid supplies~~ shall be determined by an employer-authorized, ~~licensed~~ physician or other licensed health care professional (PLHCP), as defined in section 5144, or shall meet the requirements of Table 1 of this section, which conforms with the requirements for Class A first-aid kits specified within the American National Standards Institute (ANSI)/International Safety Equipment Association (ISEA) Z308.1-2021, American

~~extent and type of emergency care to be given based upon the anticipated incidence and nature of injuries and illnesses and availability of transportation to medical care.~~

(2) Based upon its size, the location(s) of employees, and the types of hazards in the workplace, the employer shall evaluate the need for, and shall provide:

(A) Additional first-aid kits to ensure ready access by employees; and

(B) Additional types and quantities of first-aid equipment and supplies appropriate to the types of hazards in the workplace.

NOTE to subsection (c)(2): Whenever first-aid materials for the treatment of chemical injuries are included in first-aid kits, the requirements of subsection 5194(h)(2)(E) for training on emergency procedures apply.

(3) Drugs, antiseptics, eye irrigation solutions, inhalants, medicines, or proprietary preparations shall not be included in first-aid kits unless specifically approved, in writing, by an employer-authorized PLHCP licensed physician.

(i) Written Plan. The employer shall have a written plan to provide emergency medical services. The plan shall specify the means of implementing all applicable requirements in this section. When employers form a combined emergency medical services program with appropriately trained persons, one written plan will be considered acceptable to comply with the intent of this subsection.

NOTE: The provisions of Section 1512 are not intended to exclude immediate treatment of minor injuries which do not require the services of a PLHCP physician.

Subchapter 7. General Industry Safety Orders
Group 2. Safe Practices and Personal Protection
Article 10. Personal Safety Devices and Safeguards

Amend section 3400 as follows:

§3400. Emergency Medical Services and First Aid.

- (a) Employer shall ensure the ready availability of medical personnel for advice and consultation on matters of industrial health or injury.
- (b) In the absence of an infirmary, clinic, or hospital, in near proximity to the workplace, which is used for the treatment of all injured employees, a person or persons shall be adequately trained to render first aid. Training shall be equal to that of the American Red Cross or the Mine Safety and Health Administration.
- (c) Employers shall evaluate the need for first-aid materials and shall ensure that there are ~~There shall be~~ adequate quantities and types of first-aid materials, approved by the ~~consulting physician,~~ readily available for employees on every job. Such materials shall be kept in a sanitary and usable condition. A frequent inspection shall be made of all first-aid materials, which shall be replenished as necessary.
- (1) All employees shall have ready access to a first-aid kit. The employer shall furnish a sufficient number of first-aid kits to meet this requirement. The location of each first-aid kit shall be clearly indicated.
- (2) The minimum types and quantities of materials in first-aid kits shall either comply with the requirements of Table 1 of this section, which conforms with the minimum requirements for Class A first-aid kits specified within the American National Standards Institute (ANSI)/International Safety Equipment Association (ISEA) Z308.1-2021 American National Standard for Minimum Requirements for Workplace First-Aid Kits and Supplies, , or shall be determined by an employer-authorized physician or other licensed health care professional (PLHCP), as defined in section 5144.
- (3) Based upon its size, the location(s) of employees, and the types of hazards in the workplace, the employer shall evaluate the need for, and shall provide, additional first-aid kits and additional types and quantities of first-aid equipment and supplies.
